

A practical tool to help you live as an “all of life disciple”.

Label the different spheres of your life eg. school, work, extended family, soccer etc. For each context, note:

- How can I live my life in a way that stands out positively for Jesus in this context?
- Are there ways that I can serve or encourage others in this context?
- Who might Jesus have me come alongside?
- Is there a further step I can take?

As a way of keeping Jesus and His Kingdom as your highest priority, use these questions as a grid for deciding on further commitments and even assessing current commitments:

- Will there be opportunities to live as a disciple or to make disciples in this context?
- Are there ways that this commitment could help me grow?
- Will it squeeze out or put pressure on my time or capacity to follow Jesus as my highest priority?
- Are there ways that it could be detrimental to being a disciple?
- Will it compete for my affection?
- If you have kids, what might your decision about this additional commitment communicate to them and what impact could it have on them following Jesus as their highest priority?
